

Selected as One of The Most Dependable™ Wealth Managers of the Southwest US

Dependable—adjective: Capable of being depended upon: reliable, responsible, solid, sound,² trustworthy, trusty, See TRUST

Deborah L. Danielson, owner of Danielson Financial Group, was selected as one of The Most Dependable™ Wealth Managers of the Southwest United States.

The list of Most Dependable™ Wealth Managers of the Southwest has been published in the December 22nd issue of Forbes by Goldline Research. As an independent third-party research firm, Goldline Research sets the standard for dependability in professional services industries across the United States. Deborah Danielson was chosen in this region to receive this designation.

Goldline Research undertakes an extensive research process to review all qualified applicants in a respective area. Goldline's consumer-centric evaluation method is specifically tailored to evaluate providers for how well they service their clients' needs. The proprietary research process used includes in-depth interviews and quantitative analysis of key provider data, as well as customer reference checks to confirm exceptional levels of customer service. Those that ultimately earn Goldline Research's Most Dependable™ designation show that they have the characteristics that are essential for continued success and leadership within their industry.

I am honored to receive this very prestigious award. I attribute this recognition to the consistent fundamental approach to wealth management that I have employed for these many years, and to my firms' exemplary client service.
